New York, December 3, 2007 – FdG Associates, a leading middle-market private equity firm, today announced it has recapitalized A&R Transport, a leading bulk transportation, packaging, distribution and logistics company based in Morris, Ill., and Alliance Logistics, a non-asset based transportation management services provider based in Elgin, Ill. The company will be known as A&R Logistics going forward. The investment was made from FdG Capital Partners II LP, FdG Associates' second institutional fund, which has more than $300 million in committed capital. Terms of the transaction were not disclosed.

Doug Dossey, a Managing Director at FdG Associates, said, "We are attracted to A&R's strong reputation in its industry for service and safety, its network of terminals across the country, its long history of exceptional operating performance and its leadership position in transportation and logistics for plastic resin. We look forward to working with Jim Bedeker, Jeff O'Connor and the rest of the A&R team to help grow the company, both organically and through strategic acquisitions."

A&R Transport was formed in 1969 by President and Chief Executive Officer Jim Bedeker. Jim Bedeker, CEO of A&R Logistics, said, "We're excited to be partnering with the FdG Associates team. They have a successful track record of working with companies such as ours, and we expect that their investment and expertise will provide the additional
